What does CONSIDERATE mean?

The dictionary says considerate means being thoughtful of the rights and feelings of others.

When you are considerate, you are not just thinking about yourself. You put others before yourself and you recognize that you are part of a community. You want what is best for everyone or everything around you.

Being considerate means you pay attention to others and think before you speak.

A Wonderful World

The world we live in is amazing! It's a world where plants, animals, and humans all live together in harmony sharing the air we breathe, the water we drink, and the ground we walk on.

Luna loves going for a run every morning to start off her day. Sometimes she goes to a local park or a nearby mountain to change the scenery and appreciate the world around her. One of her favorite things to do after a run is stop and appreciate everything and everyone around her.

As a class, discuss the questions below:

- ❖ What are some things that you're grateful for?
- ❖ Where's your favorite place visit?
- ❖ If you could go anywhere in the world, where would you go?

A Wonderful World

There's only one earth! We need to practice being considerate by sharing our resources. Resources are materials we need to function effectively. In partners, discuss what a resource is and answer the questions below.

- ❖ What resources do humans need?
- ❖ What resources do plants need?
- ❖ What resources do animals need?

There are a limited amount of resources available on Earth.

How can we be considerate of these resources?
